

Photo: courtesy

Players from both teams with the commander and sergeant major of the 34 Canadian Brigade Group, Colonel David Shane and Chief Warrant Officer Ken Jalbert.

Patriotes get involved in the community

On July 28, the Montreal Region Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) soccer team took on the non-profit organization Faisons ce que nous pouvons (NSK). The game ended 4-2 in favour of the Patriotes.

NSK is an organization whose mission is to support young people and help them find a smile through socio-cultural activities. "We're happy because this match gave NSK, the CAF and the 34th Canadian Brigade Group a great deal of visibility," says Sergeant Alcide

Tchamabo, quartermaster with the 51 Field Ambulance and the team's coach. The 34 CBG commander and sergeant-major, Colonel David Shane and Chief Warrant Officer Ken Jalbert, attended the event.

Scottish traditions in the spotlight

Members of the Reserve unit The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada once again took part in this year's Montreal Scottish Games, held on August 4 in Verdun. As well as being an opportunity for the regiment to perpetuate Scottish traditions, these games enable them to forge links between the citizens of Montreal and the military community. The regimental band put in a fine showing in the piping and drumming competition. Others demonstrated their strength in the tug-of-war challenge.

